Lighthouse CD: No Turning Back

Before his conversion into the Catholic Faith, Fr. Calloway was a high school dropout who had been kicked out of Japan, was a drug dealer, was institutionalized twice and was thrown in jail multiple times. Fr. Donald Calloway, also known as the surfer priest, will have you on the edge of your seat as he candidly shares the amazing story of how he was surprisingly led into the Catholic Faith and to the priesthood by grace of God and through the intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mary. This story will give you hope for the future of our Church. This is a talk you must share with anyone who thinks God's mercy isn't big enough for their sins!

NOTES FROM FR. CARL.....

Our 5th Sunday of Lent challenges us in the way we are to be Disciples of Christ. A grain of wheat must die to produce any fruit and we likewise must die to self so as to produce good works. We must not be too attached to this world but look at building the kingdom of heaven. May this Lenten season be one of self denial and self sacrifice living our lives not for ourselves but for others.

Let us pray for Barbara Tierney, her family and friends, whose funeral mass was this past Monday.

We welcome Michael James Ranek son of Justin and Martha who was baptized last Saturday. Let us pray for him and his parents.

Have a blessed week! Fr. Carl

FROM THE DEACON'S DESK.....

Last weekend when I was enjoying the delicious corned beef and cabbage dinner I was asked; "Why can we as Catholics eat fish on Friday, but not other meats?" My initial thought was that our first Pope was in the fishing business. There actually is evidence dating back to the second century that the church was trying to support the fishing industry. The main reason though, is that in those days, meat was much more expensive than fish and fish was more readily available, so meat was a real treat. As we know, Lent is a time for sacrifice, so we continue that tradition of not eating meat on Fridays. So if you love fish, perhaps you could sacrifice your deep fried perch this Friday and have a salad instead! Have a great Lent!

God Bless, Deacon Ray
